Editor's Note

Dear Readers,

Welcome to the latest edition of JTribe Monthly Buzz. It's been almost 3 years since we have been consistently publishing this monthly newsletter for you all to read and keep yourselves updated on all latest happenings at Jhamtani. Our idea of having this newsletter is far beyond mere information dissemination, it is focussed more on reaching a greater audience and staying connected. We are grateful that this effort has borne fruit and many of you have written back to us sharing your feedback or experiences with us. This newsletter has always been a collaborative effort between us and you - our JTribe. A special thanks goes to our creative and marketing team for being consistent in their efforts in collecting various interesting reads and presenting them in an aesthetic way.

We always believe in the power of reading for improving one's knowledge and skillset. So we have started a small gesture of gifting books to our best performers every month. This helps us to spread the habit of reading amongst a larger audience.

This month we successfully handed over 2 projects - Ace Abode C & E wings and Nandan Ace. Ace Abode at Kiwale was started in April 2022 and till date we have handed over 6 wings, out of total 8 wings, since April 2025. The last 2 wings D1 and D2 are also set for handover in the next few months. Nandan Ace, Balewadi, is our premium project having 138 apartments of 3 BHK, started in April 2022. Timely handover of every project has always been our goal and our entire team is aligned with our principles of quality construction, best-in-class technology, superior client experience and on-time delivery.

The much awaited launch of our new project at Thergaon by the Codename The Crown is just round the corner. We have obtained all required sanctions to start the project. The excitement in our teams is visible as everyone is busy planning the new launch. This will mark our 32nd project since the inception of our Real Estate vertical in the year 2010. This will also be the biggest project we have launched till date with around 1000+ residential units and 50+ commercial units in the heart of PCMC. We are grateful to our customers for having trust in our brand and filling our inboxes with enquiries of the new launch. We promise to bring a high-quality, community-centric project with a variety of amenities and smart designed spaces for the modern-day consumer.

With this, I offer you this copy of JTribe Monthly Buzz filled with interesting & informative articles.

Thanks,

Meenakshi Jhamtani
Executive Director

The Launch of Our New Showroom

We are delighted to share the exciting news of the launch of our newest store of Jhamtani Cerakraft at Balewadi Highstreet—marking another important step in our journey of growth and innovation.

This new store has been thoughtfully designed to showcase our newest collections. Every element of the space reflects a modern and refined shopping experience, allowing customers to explore our offerings in a vibrant and inspiring environment.

With a strong focus on staying ahead of trends, the store brings together carefully curated collections that highlight quality, style, and innovation. Visitors can discover our newest arrivals and contemporary designs that truly represent the direction we are moving in as a brand.

Located in the dynamic setting of Balewadi Highstreet, the store places us right at the heart of a thriving community, making it easier than ever for customers to connect with our brand and experience what we have to offer.

This launch is a reflection of the dedication and collaboration of our entire team, whose efforts continue to drive us forward. Their commitment ensures that we consistently deliver excellence and evolve with our customers' expectations.

We warmly invite you to visit our new store at Balewadi Highstreet and experience our latest collections firsthand as we celebrate this exciting milestone.

Here's to a new chapter and continued success ahead.

Empowerment Through Learning: My Journey with Shakti Edge

Working in an organization where every day brings a new learning opportunity is truly rewarding. At Jhamtani, the culture strongly promotes growth, inclusivity, and equal opportunities for everyone—regardless of gender. In fact, the organization goes a step further in empowering women through meaningful initiatives.

On the occasion of Women's Day, our management launched a remarkable program called Shakti Edge. This initiative is designed to empower women by providing them with the opportunity to engage in one-on-one sessions with our directors. These sessions focus on developing leadership qualities, identifying essential skills, and guiding us on how to grow both personally and professionally. The vision is not only to nurture individuals but also to build strong leaders from within the organization.

As part of this program, we are given case studies that help us understand real-life leadership scenarios. These exercises challenge us to think critically and reflect on how effective leaders handle different situations. In our fast-paced daily lives, we often get caught up in routines and forget to pause, learn something new, read, or even prioritize our health. This program encourages us to step back, reflect, and make better decisions in both our personal and professional lives.

One of the most impactful experiences was a session with our director, Mr. Anup Jhamtani. It was not just informative but truly transformative. We learned that growth is not defined solely by our position or title, but also by our inner development. The session shifted our mindset and broadened our perspective on leadership and self-improvement.

A key takeaway was understanding how true empowerment works—by giving credit to others and taking responsibility when things go wrong. We also learned the importance of self-discipline in achieving success. Maintaining a fitness routine and prioritizing good health are not optional but essential. Most importantly, having clarity about our end goals helps us measure our progress and stay aligned with our purpose.

I feel incredibly grateful to be a part of such a meaningful program -Shakti Edge. A special thanks to our mentors, Mrs. Meenakshi Jhamtani and Mr. Anup Jhamtani, for investing their valuable time in guiding and empowering us. Their insights and support are truly inspiring and will continue to shape our journey towards becoming better leaders.

Execution Journey of Jhamtani SpaceBiz

When I joined Jhamtani Group, I was entrusted with executing Jhamtani SpaceBiz, a commercial high-rise project located on Baner main road. Despite a small plot, the project presented complex challenges due to surrounding residential developments, an active metro line, and limited site access.

Excavation & Dewatering

Deep excavation up to 15.5 meters (19m lift pit) in a confined space was one of the toughest phases. Over 450 shore piles, waler beam systems, and continuous monitoring ensured safety. Post excavation, persistent water ingress required round-the-clock dewatering.

Foundation & Structure

The project involved heavy RCC work with large-scale steel and concrete usage. High-rise construction included dense shear walls and reinforcement (up to 40mm), making execution slower and more complex than residential projects..

Design Coordination

Foundation designs had to be adapted due to site constraints. Close collaboration with consultants ensured real-time, practical solutions without compromising execution.

Tower Crane & Planning

With limited space, tower crane erection was executed from the main road using heavy machinery, requiring precise planning and coordination.

Core & Parking Challenges

The core area had thick shear walls (600–700mm) with dense reinforcement, making execution highly complex. The parking tower required vertical RCC construction up to 60 meters without slab support—demanding precision and strict safety control.

Safety & Risk Management

Managing internal site safety along with external risks like traffic and pedestrian movement was critical. Safety remained a top priority at every stage.

Execution Reality

Daily challenges—from labor issues to design changes—required quick decision-making and adaptability.

Ongoing Challenges

Facade execution and extreme space constraints remain key challenges. Efficient planning, just-in-time deliveries, and smart material management are critical to progress.

Teamwork

Strong collaboration between management, engineers, contractors, and labor has been the backbone of successful execution.

Conclusion

Jhamtani SpaceBiz proves that:

- Small sites can bring large challenges
- Success depends on planning, coordination, and adaptability
- Safety and quality are non-negotiable

Execution is not just about drawings—it's about solving real-world challenges efficiently.

Embracing Adaptability Through Thoughtful Tuesday

Picture this: You're enjoying a quiet Monday afternoon—your first weekly day off at a new job—when your phone buzzes. Tomorrow morning, you're presenting at Thoughtful Tuesday.

No pressure, right?

That unexpected call left me with one question to answer: What topic would you like to present?

And honestly, the answer wrote itself: Adaptability. Because what better way to talk about thinking on your feet than being asked to do exactly that? It's also a theme I've experienced firsthand through my exposure to diverse industries and work environments.

Tuesday morning exceeded every expectation. Teams from across departments showed up ready to engage, and the conversation quickly took on a life of its own. Together, we explored the building blocks of adaptability—teamwork, curiosity, resilience, and critical thinking—and discussed the mindset shifts that help transform change from something intimidating into something empowering.

Embrace change instead of resisting it

Let go of ego and stay open to learning

Step outside your comfort zone—that's where growth begins

Learn from experience, especially the challenging moments

One idea stood out above all: learning never stops. In a world that evolves so quickly, staying curious isn't optional—it's essential. Initiatives like Thoughtful Tuesday create meaningful opportunities to exchange ideas, challenge assumptions, and grow together.

What truly makes it impactful is the collective energy—the willingness to show up, contribute, listen, and learn from one another.

A sincere appreciation to the HR team and management for creating platforms like Thoughtful Tuesday and for fostering a culture built on continuous learning, collaboration, and growth.

Here's to embracing change with confidence, staying curious when the path feels uncertain, and supporting one another along the way. Because when we learn together, adapt together, and grow together, we don't just keep up with change—we lead it.

The Role Of Character

Character building is the lifelong process of developing key ethical values, such as honesty, integrity, empathy, and responsibility. These values shape an individual's behavior, actions, and overall identity. They serve as a moral compass, guiding how a person engages with society, addresses challenges, and makes choices. This process ultimately distinguishes a strong personality from a weak one.

Importance of Character Development

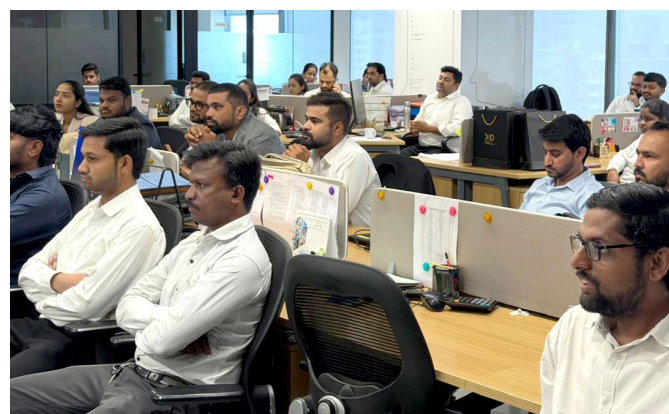

Developing good character is essential for success and well-being. It is not solely about intelligence or skills; rather, it is the moral foundation that determines how those skills are applied. A strong character promotes resilience in tough situations and fosters the mental strength needed to face life's challenges. Additionally, good character is vital for building trust, respect, and meaningful relationships, as people naturally gravitate toward those of good character.

The Role of Education and Environment

Character building starts early and is greatly influenced by family and school settings. Schools should create inclusive and supportive cultures that encourage compassion and respect. An effective educational approach blends academic success with personal growth. This ensures that individuals are not only skilled but also socially responsible. Schools that support good behavior help build community.

Methods for Strengthening Character

- Observation and Mentorship: Imitating positive role models, such as teachers and parents, offers clear examples to follow.

- Self-Reflection: Reviewing one's actions each day can highlight areas for personal growth.

- Consistency: Good character develops through daily habits and ongoing effort, not just through occasional good deeds.

Conclusion

This journey is crucial because it defines who we are. It is never too late to enhance one's character, as it is a dynamic and evolving part of human life. Investing in character building leads to a life filled with purpose and integrity.

Timeless Corporate Lessons

Delivering my presentation at the Jhamtani office was a valuable and enriching experience. As it was my first presentation, I felt quite nervous initially. However, as I progressed, I gained confidence, and overall it turned out to be a positive experience.

The response from the team was encouraging, and the interaction during and after the presentation helped me understand different perspectives. This experience highlighted the importance of clear communication, structured content, and engaging delivery.

One of the key takeaways for me was learning how to stay composed despite nervousness and present ideas effectively. I also identified areas for improvement, such as incorporating more data-driven insights and enhancing visual elements for better clarity.

Overall, it was a great learning opportunity that helped me build confidence. I look forward to more such opportunities to learn, grow, and contribute effectively.

Ownership at Workplace

I had the opportunity to present on the topic “Ownership at Workplace” during our Thoughtful Tuesday session. The experience was both engaging and insightful, as it allowed me to reflect on how ownership plays a critical role in individual and organizational success.

During the session, I explained that ownership is not just about completing assigned tasks, but about taking full responsibility, thinking proactively, and acting like a stakeholder rather than just an employee. I emphasized that when employees demonstrate ownership, they naturally focus on quality, timelines, and problem-solving without waiting for instructions.

I shared practical examples from our day-to-day work environment, such as:

- Identifying issues before they escalate
- Suggesting process improvements
- Taking initiative to complete tasks even beyond defined roles

I also discussed how ownership leads to:

- Higher employee engagement
- Increased innovation
- Better team collaboration
- Improved project outcomes

To make the session more relatable, I included a real-life style example (like a movie or site situation) where a person steps beyond their responsibility to ensure success, showing true ownership mindset.

The session concluded with a key message:

Don't just do your job—own your work.

Overall, it was a great learning experience for me as a presenter and ability to connect with the team

CORE HIGHLIGHTS

Fun Fit Friday at Jhamtani

In the corporate world Fridays are welcomed with open arms since it marks the last working day of the week. It brings a sense of relief and anticipation as employees look forward to unwinding and spending quality time outside of work. The lighter mood in the office often boosts morale, making the day feel more relaxed and enjoyable.

We at Jhamtani very fondly celebrate our last Friday of the month as FUN FIT FRIDAY. It is a perfect blend of wellness and enjoyment, encouraging everyone to take a break from routine and recharge. Through engaging activities and team participation, it fosters a positive work culture and strengthens camaraderie across the organization.

Our trainer Pravin took up some team-building games that centered around fitness activities making the experience even more impactful, promoting collaboration, communication, and healthy competition.

FUN FIT FRIDAY is also when we celebrate birthdays of team members for that month. We come together for cake cutting and wishing them to make the day special. It adds joy and makes everyone feel valued.

Overall, FUN FIT FRIDAY brings everyone together in a fun and meaningful way, helping us stay active, connected, and motivated. It's a commitment to employee well-being making every month end something to truly look forward to.
